

No Coronavirus For Michigan

Intro and Information

By: Isaac Robinson

As the heat of this new out break starts up with in china with over 31,000 everyone is getting concerned for countries outside of Asia. When it comes to my home state of Michigan there seems to be no reason to panic. So far 5 people have been tested for the virus. Of those 5 results, 4 have come back negative shared by the MDHHS (Michigan Department of Health & Human Resources). Backing up these test that were conducted the MDHHS also states “The Centers for Disease Control andPrevention (CDC) is closely monitoring an outbreak of respiratory illness caused by a novel (new)coronavirus first identified in Wuhan, Hubei Province, China.” With that being said it is clear that there is nothing to worry about at this moment. There are still 59 more referrals to be tested so be on the look out for updates and other news on the events taking place in the next few months.

Statistics

These stats below are pull directly from the MDHHS website and show the numbers I was referring to above. These numbers are from the time of writing this so they may change in the future so make sure to check for yourself. Also feel free to check back here for updates on any events revolving around the Coronavirus in Michigan.
